

LET'S TALK ABOUT SEXUAL ABUSE

This event aims to bring together professionals, practitioners, academics, researchers and the Public to discuss sexual violence. The objective is to have a frank and free discussion about sexual harm its causes, consequences, responses to it and how to identify as well as prevent it.

The event will involve

- Four short 10 minute talks by a range of experts
- An information stall
- A chance to meet local service providers, charities and outreach groups who work in the field of sexual violence.

Topics & Speakers

THE IMPACT OF RESIDENCE RESTRICTIONS ON SEX OFFENDER REINTEGRATION AND MANAGEMENT

Jill Levenson, Barry University

THE REALITY & IMPACT OF SEX TRAFFICKING

*Thomas J. Lares,
Director of Florida Abolitionist, Inc*

YOUTH SEX OFFENDER REGISTRATION AND ITS IMPACT.

Nicole Pittman, Centre for Youth Registration Reform

UNDERSTANDING & RESPONDING TO CAMPUS SEXUAL ASSAULT.

Sarah McMahon, Rutgers University

Organised, Sponsored & Supported by

Date: Tuesday 1st November 2016

Time: 6.30 – 8.00pm

Location: Fairwinds Alumni Center, University of Central Florida, Orlando

THIS IS A FREE EVENT.

Who should attend?

This event is aimed at the general public and requires no prior education, training or specialist knowledge on any of the topics.

Why attend?

- To improve your understanding of sexual abuse and how we can all play a role in its prevention.
- To improve your awareness of current responses to sexual abuse.
- To become more aware of the consequences of sexual abuse for the victims, offenders, their families, communities, and society as a whole; and
- To become involved in prevention, public health and education strategies to address sexual abuse.

Please sign up at:

<https://www.facebook.com/events/321029841564648/permalink/321034824897483/>

Twitter: @MakeSocietySafe

Tell us about your role within Prevention: #MyRoleATSA2016

Contact:

Kieran.mccartan@uwe.ac.uk