RE: HURRICANE/EMERGENCY PREPAREDNESS

To Whom It May Concern:

The Florida Action Committee (FAC) is a not-for profit, public safety organization that advocates for effective sex offender policies that follow empirical research and best practices. Our membership of approximately 2,000 individuals, is comprised of persons required to register as sex offenders and predators ("registrants"), their families, treatment providers, researchers and other stakeholders.

Florida is particularly susceptible to hurricanes and each year we have members across the state who are notified to evacuate but, due to their registration status, discover they are not welcome in emergency shelters. These individuals are forced to weigh the risk of a criminal sanction against the risk to their safety.

To help our members better prepare for an emergency without the risk of running afoul of the laws, we are writing to the Sheriffs of each County to ascertain what provisions have been made for registrants in the event of a hurricane or other natural disaster. We intend to consolidate this information into a resource manual to assist registrants and their families in the event of another hurricane. Our goal is to ensure everyone has access to safe shelter during a storm.

Kindly reply to this letter informing us of the following: (1) Where can registrants evacuate to during a hurricane or natural disaster? (2) If separate provisions are made for registrants on probation vs. registrants not on probation, what are they? (3) If specific shelters have been designated for registrants, what is/are the location of those shelters? (4) Will registrants be separated from their family if seeking shelter in a designated location? (5) If an evacuation lasts 3 or more days such that the evacuation location becomes a "temporary residence" pursuant to F.S. §943.0435, are your registration locations open during the hurricane or natural disaster, to enable a registrant to comply with the in-person registration requirement? If not; what provisions are made for compliance? (5) Who can a registrant contact for more information during an emergency?

I look forward to receiving this information promptly so that it can be disseminated before the end of hurricane season.

Sincerely,

RE: HURRICANE/EMERGENCY PREPAREDNESS

To Whom It May Concern:

The Florida Action Committee (FAC) is a not-for profit, public safety organization that advocates for effective sex offender policies that follow empirical research and best practices. Our membership of approximately 2,000 individuals, is comprised of persons required to register as sex offenders and predators ("registrants"), their families, treatment providers, researchers and other stakeholders.

Florida is particularly susceptible to hurricanes and each year we have members across the state who are notified to evacuate but, due to their registration status, discover they are not welcome in emergency shelters. These individuals are forced to weigh the risk of a criminal sanction against the risk to their safety.

To help our members better prepare for an emergency without the risk of running afoul of the laws, we are writing to the Sheriffs of each County to ascertain what provisions have been made for registrants in the event of a hurricane or other natural disaster. We intend to consolidate this information into a resource manual to assist registrants and their families in the event of another hurricane. Our goal is to ensure everyone has access to safe shelter during a storm.

Kindly reply to this letter informing us of the following: (1) Where can registrants evacuate to during a hurricane or natural disaster? (2) If separate provisions are made for registrants on probation vs. registrants not on probation, what are they? (3) If specific shelters have been designated for registrants, what is/are the location of those shelters? The Florida Action Committee (FAC) is a not-for profit, public safety organization that advocates for effective sex offender policies that follow empirical research and best practices. Our membership of approximately 2,000 individuals, is comprised of persons required to register as sex offenders and predators ("registrants"), their families, treatment providers, researchers and other stakeholders.

Florida is particularly susceptible to hurricanes and each year we have members across the state who are notified to evacuate but, due to their registration status, discover they are not welcome in emergency shelters. These individuals are forced to weigh the risk of a criminal sanction against the risk to their safety.

To help our members better prepare for an emergency without the risk of running afoul of the laws, we are writing to the Sheriffs of each County to ascertain what provisions have been made for registrants in the event of a hurricane or other natural disaster. We intend to consolidate this information into a resource manual to assist registrants and their families in the event of another hurricane. Our goal is to ensure everyone has access to safe shelter during a storm.

Kindly reply to this letter informing us of the following: (1) Where can registrants evacuate to during a hurricane or natural disaster? (2) If separate provisions are made for registrants on probation vs. registrants not on probation, what are they? (3) If specific shelters have been designated for registrants, what is/are the location of those shelters? (4) Will registrants be separated from their family if seeking shelter in a designated location? (5) If an evacuation lasts 3 or more days such that the evacuation location becomes a "temporary residence" pursuant to F.S.§943.0435, are your registration locations open during the hurricane or natural disaster, to enable a registrant to comply with the in-person registration requirement? If not; what provisions are made for compliance? (5) Who can a registrant contact for more information during an emergency?

I look forward to receiving this information promptly so that it can be disseminated before the end of hurricane season.

Sincerely,

RE: HURRICANE/EMERGENCY PREPAREDNESS

To Whom It May Concern:

The Florida Action Committee (FAC) is a not-for profit, public safety organization that advocates for effective sex offender policies that follow empirical research and best practices. Our membership of approximately 2,000 individuals, is comprised of persons required to register as sex offenders and predators ("registrants"), their families, treatment providers, researchers and other stakeholders.

Florida is particularly susceptible to hurricanes and each year we have members across the state who are notified to evacuate but, due to their registration status, discover they are not welcome in emergency shelters. These individuals are forced to weigh the risk of a criminal sanction against the risk to their safety.

To help our members better prepare for an emergency without the risk of running afoul of the laws, we are writing to the Sheriffs of each County to ascertain what provisions have been made for registrants in the event of a hurricane or other natural disaster. We intend to consolidate this information into a resource manual to assist registrants and their families in the event of another hurricane. Our goal is to ensure everyone has access to safe shelter during a storm.

Kindly reply to this letter informing us of the following: (1) Where can registrants evacuate to during a hurricane or natural disaster? (2) If separate provisions are made for registrants on probation vs. registrants not on probation, what are they? (3) If specific shelters have been designated for registrants, what is/are the location of those shelters? (4) Will registrants be separated from their family if seeking shelter in a designated location? (5) If an evacuation lasts 3 or more days such that the evacuation location becomes a "temporary residence" pursuant to F.S.§943.0435, are your registration locations open during the hurricane or natural disaster, to enable a registrant to comply with the in-person registration requirement? Florida is particularly susceptible to hurricanes and each year we have members across the state who are notified to evacuate but, due to their registration status, discover they are not welcome in emergency shelters. These individuals are forced to weigh the risk of a criminal sanction against the risk to their safety.

To help our members better prepare for an emergency without the risk of running afoul of the laws, we are writing to the Sheriffs of each County to ascertain what provisions have been made for registrants in the event of a hurricane or other natural disaster. We intend to consolidate this information into a resource manual to assist registrants and their families in the event of another hurricane. Our goal is to ensure everyone has access to safe shelter during a storm.

Kindly reply to this letter informing us of the following: (1) Where can registrants evacuate to during a hurricane or natural disaster? (2) If separate provisions are made for registrants on probation vs. registrants not on probation, what are they? (3) If specific shelters have been designated for registrants, what is/are the location of those shelters? (4) Will registrants be separated from their family if seeking shelter in a designated location? (5) If an evacuation lasts 3 or more days such that the evacuation location becomes a "temporary residence" pursuant to F.S. §943.0435, are your registration locations open during the hurricane or natural disaster, to enable a registrant to comply with the in-person registration requirement? If not; what provisions are made for compliance? (5) Who can a registrant contact for more information during an emergency?

I look forward to receiving this information promptly so that it can be disseminated before the end of hurricane season.

Sincerely,
